

INTRODUCTION TO LAW AND THE LEGAL PROCESS

LEGAL STUDIES 101 - Spring 2009

Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania

Prof. Matwyshyn

amatwysh@wharton.upenn.edu

OVERVIEW: This course surveys the fundamentals of the U.S. legal system and process, its evolution and the social policy needs of our society. It will introduce several substantive areas of law, with a particular focus on contracts and applications of traditional legal concerns in emerging technology policy contexts.

CLASS MEETS: Tuesday & Thursday, 1:30-2:50 or 3:00–4:30 PM

OFFICE HOURS: Tuesday & Thursday, 11:30-12:00 and 4:30–5:00PM, other times by appointment

E-MAIL: E-mail will be used for course announcements. Please check your e-mail daily.

MATERIALS: COURSE BULKPACK customized for this course, available at Wharton Reprographics only. During the term, supplementary materials will be made available through Reprographics, distributed in class, linked off this syllabus or posted on the course's WebCafe website. If you are not a Wharton student, go to <http://accounts.wharton.upenn.edu> to request a Wharton Computing Account so that you can access the WebCafe. Readings in brackets on this syllabus are recommended. All assignments are turned into your Assignment folder on WebCafe.

COURSE FORMAT: The course combines lecture, Socratic dialogue, and group discussion. Active class participation is expected. Excellent class participation, as determined by the professor in her sole discretion, may result in up to five additional points added to your final exam score. (Consequently, your final exam grade may improve by as much as a full letter grade.) Participants in the optional jury simulation exercise will receive three extra credit points on their midterm if selected as an “actor” and two points for participating as an observer. If you cannot attend the jury simulation, an alternative extra credit opportunity will be provided to you.

MOBILE PHONE AND INTERNET USAGE POLICY: Please turn off your mobile phone before the start of each class. Internet use is allowed only for pedagogical purposes and only when instructed. Instant messaging is prohibited. Disruption of class may result in lowering of your grade.

GUESTS: Guests are allowed in class solely with advance permission.
