Course Syllabus

Description of topics: The course begins by asking how are exchange rates and financial markets related – by arbitrage and by equilibrium pricing relationships, and how can foreign exchange risk be hedged. Then the focus shifts to longer-term issues of international corporate finance. Key corporate financial issues are explored including exchange rate exposure, taxation, securities pricing, sovereign risk, the cost of capital, and the evaluation of foreign projects.

Prerequisites: A thorough knowledge of FNCE 601/100 is assumed.

Reading material: A bulk-pack is available online.

Text: Class notes prepared by Prof. Karen Lewis provide an invaluable introduction to many of the topics in the course. These class notes are available on the web café. There is no textbook in the course. For later topics in the course not covered by Prof. Lewis's notes, there are chapters taken from textbooks included in the bulkpack.

Cases: There are five cases, one sovereign risk project, and three problem sets/exercises that will be discussed in class. Students must form case study groups of 3 to 5 students to prepare the cases and other assignments. All team members are responsible for these assignments. Every student in the group must retain a copy of the write-up and bring it to the class where the case or problem set is discussed. Assignments are due at the beginning of class. If group members attend different classes, the assignment must be submitted in the earlier class.

Grading: You must submit all of the cases and exercises. The exams are also mandatory.

The final grade will be awarded as follows:

Exams: 60 %
Cases, projects and problem sets: 35 %
Class participation: 5 %

A numerical weighted average will be computed. The numerical grade distribution will dictate the final grade, according to the faculty's recommended grade distribution.

Important Notice: There will be two mid-term exams on the following dates:

Wednesday, October 19th (in class)
Wednesday, November 30th (in class)

Please make a note of these dates. There will be no specific makeup exams for these exams. If either exam is missed, it is necessary to take a makeup exam covering the entire course to be given at the beginning of the spring term. There will not be a final exam in the course.

Exam policy:

In the exams, students will be allowed to bring in a one-page "formula sheet". Calculators will also be needed. Exams may (almost surely will) contain questions regarding cases. There will be a review session before each exam.
