The Finance of Buyouts and Acquisitions: FNCE 251
Professor Bilge Yilmaz and Professor Vinay Nair
Fall 2015

Course Objective:

The aim of the course is to provide an understanding of key concepts and institutions involved in corporate buyouts and mergers and acquisitions. This course is most suitable for finance majors who are considering careers in corporate finance, investment banking and buyout funds.

Reading Materials:

- Course Reader (cases and articles).
- Further materials and lecture notes on course webpage (Canvas):
<https://canvas.upenn.edu/courses/1297207>
- Recommended (but not required) for background reading:
 - i. Berk and DeMarzo, Corporate Finance, Addison Wesley, 2007 (or any other substitute).
 - ii. Robert Bruner, Applied Mergers and Acquisitions, Wiley Finance, 2004
 - iii. Thomas Meyer and Pierre-Yves Mathonet, Beyond the J Curve: Managing a Portfolio of Venture Capital and Private Equity Funds, the Wiley Finance Series, 2009.

Format:

The structure of the course includes lectures, case discussions, and guest speakers. The lectures provide the relevant institutional facts, empirical evidence and analytical methods that will be needed for case discussions.

The major objective of the case method in finance is to use the logic of financial theory to arrive at sensible conclusions when faced with real world problems. However, one should keep in mind that there is not one absolutely right answer to a case; different assumptions can lead to different solutions. While there are no “right” answers, there are good arguments and bad arguments. The process of this course will help distinguish between sensible and senseless arguments. Considering my analyses as the correct solution defeats the purpose of this course and contributes to the silly notion that in the “real world” there is a single correct recipe to be followed.

Student Responsibilities and Assessment:

- Case Study Assignments: (Approximately 10% of the course grade).
Students will organize themselves into groups of five members to work on case assignments. Groups must be fixed throughout the semester. Diverse background within the group is beneficial. Since group work is a cooperative undertaking, students are urged to ensure that they form groups that are able to work effectively as a group. Although brief discussions across different groups are allowed, exchange of analysis and calculations is not. Most cases in this course involve actual companies. You may use firm specific or market data that are publicly available for your analysis. You cannot, however, use old notes, handouts, or solutions to the cases from previous years or similar courses elsewhere for your written reports and class discussions. The cases that require write-ups appear in bold (see the tentative course outline below). Each group is expected to hand in a hard-copy of their conclusions in a one or two page executive summary prior to any class discussion. Supporting computations and tables can be included in an appendix. All of the assumptions and formulas used should be provided (preferably as a footnote). The questions that need to be addressed will be posted at the course webpage. The raw data for cases is also available at the course webpage in .xls format.

- Class Participation and Attendance: (Approximately 30% of the course grade)
A goal of this course is to provide students with the opportunity to learn how to best contribute to discussions about complex financial issues. Therefore, this class depends and thrives on class participation. It is an important and essential part of this course. Because so much learning in this course occurs in the classroom, it is important that you attend every class. Voluntary class participation is encouraged. “Cold calls” will be made as to ensure that the class enjoys the benefit of every student’s contribution. Inadequate class participation combined with several absences can lead to a failing grade. I will judge performance based on the quality of comments/answers. Students are expected to prepare for each case and participate actively in class. I would appreciate it if students keep the same sitting arrangement throughout the semester.
- Examination: (Approximately 30% of the course grade)
You will be tested on both the concepts and the methods studied in this course. You will have access to a calculator and limited amount of information.
- Deal Proposal: (Approximately 30% of the course grade)
Each group is asked to identify a target firm either as a financial or a strategic buyer and prepare a deal proposal. The deal proposal is an active learning tool and allows you to apply many concepts that you have learned at the Wharton School. You may use firm specific or market data that are publicly available for your analysis. However, you cannot use materials prepared by professionals for a deal. Furthermore, any existing deal that is used in a teaching material, e.g., a case study, cannot be chosen as the topic of your proposal. Each group must identify a deal by October 29, 2015. The final version is due on November 25, 2015. Each group is required to give 15 minutes presentation in front of a panel.

The deal proposal has two components, a presentation and a written report. Presentation will be 15 minutes (maximum) and you should focus on the deal rationale; why do you want to own the business, what is the investment thesis? You should not get into the details of valuation models during the presentation. There will be additional instructions for the written report.

Code of Ethics:

Submitted assignments for grading should be your own or your team's own work only. Most cases in this course involve actual companies. You may use firm specific or market data that are publicly available for your analysis. You cannot, however, use old notes, handouts, or solutions to the cases from previous or other sections of this course or similar courses elsewhere for your written reports and class discussions. Failure to observe this rule may result in an automatic failing grade for the course.
