Overview

This course focuses on health care organizations’ financial decisions in the changing health care landscape. The course involves case analyses and lectures, including presentations by practitioners with extensive real world experience. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to utilize a range of financial tools and techniques for making value-added financial decisions in numerous health care contexts.

The course is organized around cases dealing with publicly-traded health care company valuation, valuation and return on investment of biopharmaceutical and medical technology development projects, valuation and deal structure for startup and early stage health care organizations, health plan pricing and finance, and health care provider risk-sharing arrangements. Each case is accompanied by background on tools, methods, institutions, and markets.

Students seeking careers in health care with minimal finance background will obtain a solid introduction to key areas of health care finance and financial decision making. Students with more background will broaden and enhance their analytical and interpretive skills in a variety of important applications.

Prerequisites: FNCE 611, equivalent coursework, or experience

Canvas site: The cases and readings not accessible by direct links will be posted on the course Canvas site. Some speakers may provide additional readings. A copy of the lecture slides usually will be distributed in class and posted after class.

Guest speakers

Case teams, write-ups, and presentation

Groups of up to three-four students should assemble to form a case team. Each team will be responsible for submitting 4 case write-ups and presenting one case in class. A case write-up should consist of no more than 6 pages of text, with as many supporting exhibits and figures as needed. More details on content and format will be provided in class.

A team’s oral presentation should take approximately 15-20 minutes, with each member required to participate. The presenting team should turn in its slides/overheads and may also turn in a write-up if the presentation slides do not fully reflect the team’s analysis.

A team member’s overall case grade may be adjusted based on teammate evaluations.

Exam

An exam will be given in class on November 23. All course material is eligible, including presentations by guest speakers. You can bring one sheet of paper with helps on one side. If essential, a makeup exam will be given at the final examination time for MW classes beginning at 1:30.
