COURSE OBJECTIVES
The objective of this course is to study the process of entrepreneurship through the acquisition of existing operating businesses. We will study this process through a series of lectures, assigned readings, case studies, and a final project which will follow the acquisition process.

We will discuss sourcing and identifying acquisition opportunities, strategic, operational, legal, and financial operational due diligence, valuation, tax considerations, raising capital, structuring and closing transactions, post-closing integration, as well as managing and exiting the acquisition. We will examine other prototypes for pursuing acquisitions including search fund models and fundless deal sponsor models.

When determining whether to enroll in this course, please keep the following in mind:

1. No two deals or acquisition processes are the same.

2. This course is designed to provide a comprehensive strategy on how to acquire a business and to provide you with the tools to decide if this is the path for you. We will discuss some alternative methods and a common-sense approach to the process.

3. While there are many similarities between the process of acquiring a small business and the protocols followed by a private equity fund buyout or a large M&A transaction, the world of small business is highly entrepreneurial, fragmented, and nuanced. There will be differences between what is discussed in class and the private equity process.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS
You are expected to attend all course sessions. Failure to attend the first session will result in being automatically dropped from the course with no further right to admission.
Since class discussions are an important aspect of the learning process, you should not register for this course unless you are prepared to attend and actively participate in each class. To encourage open conversations in each session, you should not record any of the lectures. Students will be expected to apply both their academic training and prior business experience to the class.

When class begins, all electronic devices should be turned off and put away. If you need to use a device for a language or disability issue, or there is an emergent matter, please advise me before class.

TEXT AND READINGS
The course has several types of reading materials including books, articles, and case studies.

- All of the other assigned readings, except for RUBACK, are available on study.net.

- Additional reading materials along with sample agreements, documents, and spreadsheets will be posted on Canvas during the course

GRADING/ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAM
The course submission requirements, deadlines, and grade composition are as follows:

- Class Participation- 25%
  Your contributions will be evaluated after each class. One component of class participation will be a few short, typically 1-2 question, surveys that will be due at 10 p.m., the night before several of our classes. These surveys, which do not always have one correct answer, will provide a prelude to the material that we will be discussing in class and will be posted in the Quiz section of Canvas.

- Homework- 25%
  The homework assignments, which are short caselets, will be due at 10 p.m. the night before the designated classes, as indicated on the course schedule that follows. All homework assignments must be submitted through the course Canvas site. The homework is designed to encourage you to think about the readings and facilitate active participation in class. In many cases, just like in real-world deal making, there is no single correct answer to the homework problems. However, I will provide you with a proposed solution to each assignment.

- Final Project- 50%
  The final project will be a case study that will be distributed prior to the last class. As an alternative to the final project, subject to my prior review and approval, you may prepare an acquisition analysis of an existing business. The requirements for the acquisition analysis are posted on Canvas and will be discussed in the first class. Either project may be prepared individually or in a group of up to 3 students. Regardless of whether you choose to do the final or alternative project, they are both due by 11:59 p.m. on March 17, 2020.

All assignments must be submitted through the course Canvas site. If an assignment is submitted late, your grade will be affected.

ACCESSIBILITY
All students are encouraged to meet with me during office hours, after class, or for a meal during the course. I can also be reached via email and telephone.
CONCERT RULES
- Class will start and end on time. Please be prompt.
- Students should sit according to the seating chart.
