Course Wrap Up

(FP) FINAL PAPERS DUE (FP)
ON OR BEFORE DECEMBER 15, 2023 @ 3:00PM
PLEASE SUBMIT BY E-MAIL TO: ejb@bergmanandbarrett.com
OVERVIEW

This course will be conducted in person, in three hour blocks from 3:30pm - 6:30pm Eastern Standard Time (EST) on Tuesdays commencing August 29, 2023. The course calendar includes certain instances in which class begins later when credit is given for negotiations completed outside class (Sept. 13, Sept. 27, Nov. 1).

Assigned Readings are listed under the entry in the Syllabus for each numbered class. They should be read prior to the next Class Session unless specified to the contrary. Readings contained in the Course Pack are available on CANVAS.

In addition, two books which are required readings have been set aside under this Course number and my name in the Penn Bookstore. (See titles on page 1 above.)

Finally, under the entry for each numbered class is a section for Summaries due before the next class for each negotiation that has been completed and debriefed.

TEACHING ASSISTANT - ANNABELLE NOYES

Annabelle will be responsible for attendance, negotiation pairings and written submissions. Any questions regarding those topics or any scheduling issues, should be addressed to Annabelle via e-mail. Annabelle is also responsible for all of the class IT.

All short written assignments (i.e. Negotiation Summaries) should be uploaded onto Canvas. Negotiation results are to be submitted in accordance with instructions you receive from iDecisionGames.com, unless otherwise noted in this syllabus.
Your Mid-Term Examinations and Final Projects should be e-mailed to me with a copy to Annabelle.

Annabelle’s responsibilities are substantial. Please do not inundate her with questions that can be answered by reading the Syllabus thoroughly or checking with classmates.

If you are experiencing significant health problems, whether physical or emotional, you should contact me directly by e-mail.

MASKING

If you are sneezing or coughing, I strongly suggest that you wear a mask.

ATTENDENCE REQUIREMENT

1. ABSENCES

You are required to participate in all Class Sessions at the scheduled time for the entirety of the class. Absences should only occur in the event of illness or emergencies.

If you are going to be absent, it is imperative that you advise Annabelle as soon as possible. Your absence may impact an in-class negotiation that may require Annabelle to make necessary role changes. After an absence, you must complete all assignments for the missed class and watch the video recording of that class when you have completed any negotiation that has been conducted during the missed class.
2. CONSEQUENCES

(a) In the event you attend the entirety of every scheduled class, your Class Participation grade will be elevated by 1/2 a letter grade, e.g. B+ to A-.

(b) In the event you miss all or part of one class there will be no impact one way or another on your final grade.

(c) In the event you miss all or part of 2 or more classes, your final grade will be reduced by a full letter grade.

Legitimate medical emergencies accompanied by a Doctor’s note will not be counted as an absence. However, excused absences do not render you eligible for the grade bonus described in paragraph (a) above. Absences due to a scheduled job interview or extra-curricular activity will be counted as an unexcused absence and could negatively impact your final grade.

3. EARLY DEPARTURES & LATE ARRIVALS

Late arrivals or early departures may be considered absences particularly if they are repeated. As noted above, in-class negotiations may be impacted. In addition, late arrivals or early departures are a distraction to both other students and the professor. The University has scheduled undergraduate classes to allow students the ability to move from one class to another in a timely fashion.

4. BATHROOM BREAKS

I have provided a 10 MINUTE BREAK in each class which is reflected in this syllabus. In addition, this course involves negotiations that provide you the opportunity to use the facilities if necessary.

In light of the above, I request that you do not disrupt the class by walking in and out of the classroom during lectures, video presentations and class discussion except in an emergency. Such departures are distracting to the class and the instructor and are aggravated by the loud closing of Wharton classroom doors.

COURSE PACK READINGS and VIDEO CLIPS

The Course Pack contains many of the substantive readings (mandatory and optional) for the course and may be viewed through study.Net within the Canvas site. You can click on the study.Net tab on the course navigation menu to see and/or download the full list of materials.

Videos that are shared on YouTube are directly linked on the Canvas site.

For book chapters, articles and videos that are not in study.Net or public access, the materials will be added to the “Course Materials @ Penn Libraries” link on the course navigation menu.

NEGOTIATION GAMES

You will be using the iDecisionGames platform this semester for most of our negotiation exercises. The individual class entries specify those instances in which IDecision Games will not be utilized.

Registering for the platform is mandatory, as is your payment for the IDecision fee.

If the above link doesn't work you can also register by going to idecisiongames.com and entering the following access code for your section: LGST-2910-407
You will receive an email requesting that you confirm your email address. Please check your spam folder if you haven't received this email. If you have checked your spam folder and didn't find the confirmation email, please go to idecisiongames.com and click on forgot password. Please contact support@idecisiongames.com if you have any registration issues.

Note that you will be required to download and use the Google Chrome browser for all exercises. Also, please memorize the login and password information for subsequent access. You can always click "forgot password" later if you forget it and reset your password.

GRADING AND COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Grades are not subject to negotiation and are not subject to modification by supplemental submissions. If you request a review of a grade the review may result in a grade increase, a grade decrease or no action.

1. Class Participation (20%)

You are required to complete all readings and negotiations and to submit all required summaries, negotiation memos, results sheets, quizzes and other assignments in a timely manner. You are also encouraged to participate in Q & A sessions. These discussion are important to promotion of a lively interaction that enhances the quality and texture of the learning experience. While none of these items are individually graded, this portion of your final grade is an assessment of your total performance in all of the above categories. Do not assume that simply submitting all required assignments means you will earn an “A” grade in this category. Quality is important. Normally this grade component becomes meaningful when your other grade components are in between two grade levels and may determine whether the higher or lower grade is appropriate.

[A Summary consists of a typed, double spaced, one and one half page commentary on the most important aspects of each negotiation for you personally. These are not play-by-play descriptions of the negotiation. They are reflections on your experience, e.g. what you and your partner did well or poorly what aspects posed problems for you, and how you reacted. No specific format is required.]

2. Mid-Term Examination (30%)

At the end of Class 5 a Mid-Term Examination will be distributed, for completion before Class 7. This is an open book exam with two weeks allotted for completion. No extensions can be granted as an extension would provide unfair advantages to a student receiving one. Budget your time wisely to avoid unforeseen obstacles.

3. Initial Objectives and Actual Achievements (10%)

A Comparison of Your Initial Objectives in taking this course and Your Actual Achievements, or lack thereof.

At the beginning of Class 2 you will submit a brief description of your expectations and aspirations for this course (in 350 words or less). At the beginning of Class 14 you will submit a paper comparing your initial objectives with your actual accomplishments (or lack thereof) with specific references to what aspects of the course, both in terms of substance and the use of particular teaching materials, (e.g., negotiations, class discussions, interactions with classmates, readings, film clips, instructional videos) proved instrumental in enhancing your negotiation skills and expertise. Describe the ways in which things you have learned about yourself as a person and a negotiator (strengths and weaknesses) have changed or influenced your approach to negotiation in general, and to particular negotiation situations, (e.g. characteristics of the other parties, relationships, the stakes, the subject matter or the potential for mutual gain. This paper is not to exceed 1,250 words, inclusive of your initial submission.

4. Final Project (40%)

Teams of four students (in rare cases permission will be granted for five person teams) may write research papers on a complex, high-profile negotiation, or on a theoretical topic in negotiation. Such papers should be approximately 5,000 words long (exclusive of bibliography and/or exhibits), typed, double-spaced and on one side of the page. Alternatively, your team may devise a multi-party negotiation game with role sheets and Teacher’s Notes (incorporating specific applications of the negotiation literature to those negotiation concepts the game is designed to illuminate), and a section detailing the results of a number of runnings of the game.

Negotiation game projects have no specific word requirements but authors are required to exercise judgment, consistent with the knowledge that a game is intended to be used as a teaching tool and must be practical and accessible. The Teacher’s Notes are the core of such projects and should be sufficiently clear and comprehensive to provide a blueprint for teaching of the relevant topics. This blueprint should include significant discussion of readings applicable to analysis of the negotiation topics on which your game is focused, including assigned readings and those discovered in researching your project.

Final project grades are based on the team’s performance. Failure of a team member to fulfill his/her responsibilities is attributable to the group and not just the non-performing individual. Thus, a request for a grade increase based upon the failings of a team member is not appropriate and will not be granted.

NOTE: READINGS, SUMMARIES & NEGOTIATION ASSIGNMENTS LISTED UNDER A CLASS NUMBER AND DATE ARE ASSIGNMENTS DUE FOR THE NEXT CLASS UNLESS SPECIFIED TO THE CONTRARY.
