Course Description

This course will explore the highly active and sophisticated dealmaking environment that is the hallmark of modern distressed corporate restructuring—both under the supervision of a federal court applying chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code or through an agreement reached by a company and its creditors in out-of-court negotiations.

The course is primarily comprised of two key components:

- The course will lay the foundation for a robust understanding of distressed dealmaking principles, with key concepts explained by three of the top practitioners in the restructuring field. In particular, the lectures will focus on the fundamental rights and obligations of debtors, creditors, and other parties in interest in the various types of major chapter 11 cases, providing critical insight into understanding the motivations, strategies, and available tools for chapter 11 participants (which also serve as the foundation for out-of-court deals).

- As part of the foundational work, the course will cover valuation methods used for distressed entities.
• The second component of the course is a series of case study panels. The professors survey the market trends from the previous year to bring together key participants from recent deals, including the CEO or chairman of the company, the judge, the lead banker and lead lawyer, and the lead investors to give their insight and perspectives to the class. These panels will provide students real-world insights into the most current issues in the field.

By the end of the course, the student should:

• be familiar with the legal environment which frames distressed restructurings
• be familiar with the various parties, and their roles and interests, in a typical restructuring
• have insights into the different legal and negotiating alternatives for resolving differences in interests across parties to facilitate deal conclusion
• understand how to assess the key elements of a distressed situation as well as the various “puts and takes” across parties to the restructuring that will ultimately drive the outcome

Grades will be based upon individual performance assessed through:

• three, 1 page reflection papers on selected case panels (10 pts each);
• a mid-semester prospectus for your end-of-semester paper (20 pts), DUE: 11/2 @3pm EST; and
• a final paper exploring a self-selected topical issue of modern chapter 11 practice (50 pts).

Course participation will be considered in enhancing grades.
