Subject:

This class covers legal issues confronting international business, with an emphasis on global financial regulation, international trade, and investment law. No previous legal studies or Wharton classes are needed.

Instructor:

Here is my bio:

David Zaring is a professor in the Legal Studies and Business Ethics Department at the Wharton School. He writes at the intersection of financial regulation, international law, and domestic administration. He has written over fifty articles, including publications in the Chicago, Cornell, Michigan, NYU, and Virginia law reviews, and a number of international law journals. In addition to teaching at Wharton, he has previously taught at the Bucerius, Cambridge, Penn, Vanderbilt, and Washington & Lee law schools. He has consulted for the World Bank, for financial regulators on three continents, has testified on financial regulation before Congress, and has written an occasional column on the subject for the New York Times/DealBook.

The course combines lecture, Socratic dialogue, and group discussion. Active class participation is expected.
Readings:

The readings will be available on Canvas, there is no textbook for the class; I may add and subtract from them over the semester, and will occasionally add a handout or two to the mix.

Course Format:

The course combines lecture, Socratic dialogue, and group discussion. Active class participation is expected. Excellent class participation, as determined by my sole discretion, counts as 10% of your final grade. Part of that class participation grade, prorated over the course of the semester, will depend on you getting 60% in aggregate of the Zoom quizzes right.

Electronic Device Policy:

I don’t permit the use of electronic devices in class in person, so bring your notebooks.

Grading:

- Midterm 1 – 25%
- Midterm 2 – 25%
- Final Exam – 25%
- Negotiation exercise – 10%
- Class participation – 15%

Schedule:

I intend to cover one topic per class, but we will adjust if time requires it or digressions are appropriate. You should accordingly read the next assignment for the next class, even if we haven’t exhausted all discussion of the current one.
